

Contents

Foreword by the President of the ABA	vii
Preamble.....	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	xiii
Chapter 1: The Search for the Meaning of Value	1
Lawyers and Clients: Perception Is Reality	1
Client Perceptions of Value	2
What Is Value?.....	3
Conclusion	5
Chapter 2: The Changing Legal Profession	7
Technology Within the Law Office.....	8
Clients' Understandings and Beliefs About Technology	9
Consumer Attitudes in General.....	11
The Only Constant Is Change	12
Demographics.....	13
Profit Squeeze and Income Compression.....	14
The Legal Market as a Maturing Marketplace.....	15
The Future of the Profession	20
Impact of These Trends	21
Chapter 3: Ethical Rules and Practices	23
The Basic Rule	23
The Golden Rule	25
Gray Areas	26
Chapter 4: Pricing Legal Services	31
Historical Influences on Pricing Legal Services	31
The Value Curve	37
Hourly Billing Is Cost-Driven.....	50
Variations of Hourly Rates	51

Chapter 5: Pricing Legal Services for the Solo and Small-firm Lawyer	55
The Value Curve	56
Market Factors for the Main Street Lawyer	61
Dealing with Unsophisticated Clients	61
Pricing Structure as the Basis of an Office System	64
I Cannot Do It at That Rate and Make Any Money	65
Conclusion	66
Chapter 6: Foundations on Which to Build a Billing Method	67
Self-assessment Checklist	67
Determining Cost	70
Retrospective Analysis of Cost as a Guide	70
Cost of Service Versus Value to the Client	71
Knowing Costs Through Detailed Cost Accounting.....	72
Exercise in Cost Accounting.....	75
Determining Cost to Produce a Package of Services	77
Task-based Analysis	78
Examining Closed Files to Create Minisystems or Predict Fees.....	80
Recurring Variables or Uncertainties	81
Examining Profitability as It Relates to Billing	82
Conclusion	83
Chapter 7: Billing as Part of the Communication Process	85
The Role of Effective Communication in the Billing Process.....	85
Elements of the Communication Process	87
Know What You Want to Communicate	91
A Model for Delivery of Legal Services	95
Satisfaction and Price	99
How to Prepare and Price Your Service Package	101
A Few More Words on Communicating Value.....	103
Conclusion	103
Chapter 8: Technology and Billing	105
Technology and the Billing and Collection Process.....	105
Technology in Fee-Setting and Budgets.....	112
Substantive Systems and Document Assembly	113
Knowledge Management Tools	115
Transaction Fees: Sharing the Costs (and Benefits) of Technology	116
Collaborative Technologies	116
Conclusion	117
Chapter 9: Developing the Case Plan or Transaction Plan	119
Why Should I Bother with a Plan?.....	119
Elements of the Case/Transaction Plan.....	121

Preparing in Advance	122
Setting Client Goals and Expectations	122
Determining Billing Methods	124
Chapter 10: Alternative Methods of Billing.....	125
Fixed or Flat Fee	125
Contingent Fee	127
Hourly Rate	128
Blended Hourly Rate	130
Fixed or Flat Fee Plus Hourly Rate	132
Hourly Rate Plus a Contingency	133
Percentage Fee	135
Task-based Fee	136
Retrospective Fee Based upon Value	137
Unit Fee	139
Relative-Value Method	140
Lodestar Method	141
Statutory or Other Scheduled Fee System	142
Availability-Only Retainer	143
Retainer as a Deposit Against Future Services.....	145
Chapter 11: Implementing Value-Based Billing	147
Value Billing and Profitability	148
Strategies for Profitable Value Billing	149
Position on the Value Curve	151
Change: How to Bring It About.....	153
Case Study: Could This Happen in Your Office?	155
Arguments in Favor of Changing Billing Methods	156
Impediments to Change	161
Concerns of Corporate Counsel	162
Conclusion	164
Chapter 12: Legal Representation Agreements	165
Matters to Address in All Legal Representation Agreements	165
Caveat	168
Chapter 13: Evaluating Results of the Use of Alternative Billing
Methods	169
Review of Closed Files.....	169
Client Audits	170
Performance Evaluation	172
Profitability Analysis	172
Quality of Life and Quality of Work Product	173
Conclusion	173

Appendix: Fee Letters, Agreements, and Other Resources 175

Index 275

About the Editors 285

About the Diskette 287